NARP is the largest citizen-based advocacy organization for train and rail transit passengers. Since 1967 we have worked to expand the quality and number of passenger trains in the U.S., in order to create a modern, customer-focused national passenger train network that provides a travel choice Americans want. Our work is supported by over 24,000 individuals.

“You have to begin to put the infrastructure in place for high speed trains. It should be a national priority. If the French can do it, why can't we?”

—Gordon Bethune, former
Continental Airlines CEO

“Train travel will supplant highway and air travel in the next few decades. Furthermore, electric railroads will increasingly be used to distribute freight items—such as coal and grain—as well as mail and express packages.”

—John R. Stilgoe, professor at the Harvard Graduate School of Design

Washington DC needs to hear that message...from you.

The National Association of Railroad Passengers (NARP) unveiled the Grow Trains campaign in 2007 in an effort to build the truly national rail system Americans demand.

NARP's vision to Grow Trains is achievable. By upgrading and linking existing and already-planned rail lines, nationwide passenger train service can be realized in the next few decades.

But we need your help.

Your contribution of just $35 will join with the contributions of more than 24,000 individuals and help send a message to Washington DC that now is the time to ...
